

were dropped from the school board for their part in the fight to remove Mrs. Ella Flagg Young from her position as sup't of schools. Later they were reinstated after a court fight and Huttman voted for Loeb.

The report of the charges was made public Sunday at the Chicago Federation by Margaret Haley, business agent of the Chicago Teachers' Federation.

Huttman is the anti-union labor candidate for lieutenant-governor of Illinois on the Democratic ticket. He is being fought by organized labor throughout the state. He is generally supposed to be the candidate of the Illinois Manufacturers' ass'n, the bosses' trust. Pres. Sam Hastings and Sec'y-lobbyist John Glenn of that organization are active in his campaign.

Hoyne will investigate the report of the Loeb-Huttman alleged deal and if it is found true an investigation of the entire affair will be made to determine whether or not it amounted to bribery.

Loeb was the man who made the fight for the payment of the attorney fees by the school board. He is said to have deposited his personal check as a guarantee the lawyer's bill would be paid.

Huttman was a supporter and pal of Jake Loeb while the two were together on the school board. They are generally supposed to hold the same sort of views on the Chicago Teachers' Federation.

Several months ago when Huttman was being boosted by business men pals for a federal court judgeship such women as Jane Addams and Mrs. Geo. Bass joined in labor's protest against Huttman getting such honor. President Wilson received many telegrams pointing out Huttman's corporation dealings and finally decided to drop him from consideration.

Union labor has already acted on Huttman's attempt to be lieutenant governor. Two weeks ago the Chicago Federation of Labor adopted resolutions pledging its 300,000 members to work to defeat Huttman.

Huttman, as lieutenant governor, would preside over the state senate. The senate boss, if he was an anti-labor union man, could be of great help to the organized bosses of Illinois in the forthcoming legislative battles that are to be fought out this winter.

The lieutenant governor handles the gavel in the senate. He can gavel down bills if he has a mind to and he has the power to call up bills which have had the skids put under them. With one of their own in the chair the Illinois Manufacturers would be well protected.

—o—o— TO FILE SUIT TO GET CHICAGO TEACHERS' BACK PAY

Chicago school teachers who were fired recently through the action of Jake Loeb figure they have a damage suit claim against the school board. The teachers claim that when they were passed upon as teachers in June, 1915, they were told that unless they were found inefficient they would be re-elected in June 1916, or at least be given fair warning and a fair trial.

This promise fizzled out and Att'y Greenacre for the teachers plans to file a suit to recover the salaries of the teachers.

Greenacre also filed a copy of the Loeb rule injunction on Chas. D. Lowry, acting sup't of schools. Said injunction was issued to restrain the board from illegally firing teachers. The 68 teachers recently ousted reported for work this morning when Chicago public schools opened. They expected to be sent home.
